HÚSAVÍK

THE WHALE CAPITAL OF ICELAND

The North Sailing family welcomes you to a world of adventures. An eco-friendly and sustainable world, highly respectful of nature and wildlife. A world of responsible whale watching.

Local Experts

We are a dedicated family company established in 1995. Our Original Whale Watching tour has built a reputation for the town of Húsavík as the Whale Capital of Iceland.

Go Carbon-Neutral!

We became the first whale watching company in the world to create a vessel powered by electricity. And now, we have two!

Responsible Whale Watching

By prioritising the safety of passengers and wildlife, we ensure a responsible and sustainable approach to whale watching.

Nature Friendly Operation

Respecting nature is the goal for every decision. We adhere to a strict code of conduct for responsible whale watching.

Highly Qualified Crew

Our highly qualified and professional crew has extensive sailing experience and wildlife knowledge.

Pioneers in Whale Watching

Being pioneers in whale watching and sustainable tourism, we have received numerous awards for innovation, regional development and sustainability.

OUR FLEET IS GOING GREEN

The only ones in Iceland

HONOURING THE ICELANDIC HERITAGE

We are the only company in Iceland offering whale watching on traditional gaff rigged sailing boats. We play an important role in preserving the knowledge of handling and maintaining traditional sailing.

POWERED BY NATURE

North Sailing has taken a big step into making the fleet green by designing and building two electric boats that are silent and carbon-neutral!

Our schooner Opal is the first ship in the world to be installed with a regenerative plugin hybrid-electric propulsion. A unique technique that has received worldwide attention and awards for the eco-friendly initiative.

More than 100 years old!

DONNA WOOD 1918

Donna Wood is the Danish representative in our fleet. Originally built as a lighthouse ship, it underwent a massive restoration in 1990 equipping it with rigging and sails. Donna is now one of our frequent travellers, docking regularly in Iceland, Greenland and Svalbard.

HILDUR 1974

Hildur is named after the founder's mother, Hildur Jónsdóttir. As a tribute to her, this boat is traditionally referred to as "the grandmother" of North Sailing.

HAUKUR 1973

After having successfully served as a traditional whale watching boat in our fleet for five years, Haukur was renovated and transformed into a beautiful two mast schooner. A resemblance to the old shark and fishing schooners that were common around Iceland in the 19th century.

OPAL 1951

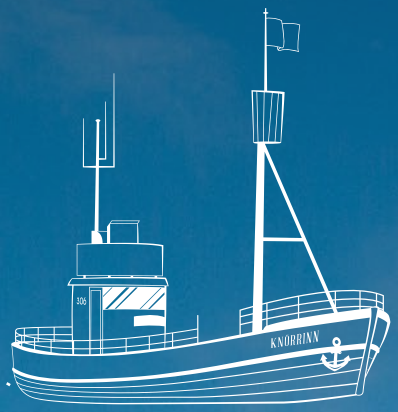

Opal is the German representative in our fleet. It's the most technologically advanced vessel in the Icelandic whale watching industry! Powered by electricity or under sails, it's simply amazing sailing quietly on board the schooner.

Opal is
HYBRID-ELECTRIC

BUILT ON TRADITION

The fleet consists mainly of traditional oak boats that were once common fishing boats in Iceland but are nowadays quite rare. By maintaining them we preserve cultural heritage. Nearly all the vessels have been restored and adapted to a new role without compromising their original character.

Why use oak boats?

Oak boats have many advantages to plastic and steel boats. Their robust build makes them strong, reliable and safe. The low fuel consumption rate makes them more silent and eco-friendly!

SÆBORG 1977

Sæborg is the newest and youngest addition in our fleet. Originally built for a local family in Húsavík, it is finally back home after years on the fishing grounds in the South. It always feels good being back home!

GARÐAR 1964

Garðar is named after Garðar Svavarsson, a Swedish Viking who is believed to have been the second Scandinavian to reach Iceland. He settled down in the most beautiful place on the island, now called Húsavík!

NÁTTFARI 1965

Náttfari is named after Garðar Svavarsson's slave, Náttfari. He escaped as his master set sail towards what is now Scotland. He is believed to have been the first permanent resident of Iceland, in the 9th century.

KNÖRRINN 1963

Knörrinn was the first boat in Iceland to begin scheduled whale watching trips, so one could say it's been around the dock! Having survived the famous extreme weather in April 1963, it was nicknamed the "Lucky Boat", which has followed it ever since.

BJÖSSI SÖR 1975

Originally a whaling boat, Bjössi Sör has luckily gotten a new and better role. It's one of the last traditional oak boats ever built in Iceland, preserving the Icelandic cultural heritage. Bjössi Sör is named after Sigurbjörn Sörensen, the father of North Sailing's founders.

ANDVARI 1975

Andvari is an old Norse name meaning "a gentle breeze that glides silently through the air". It fits perfectly as Andvari is the fleet's second silent electric boat, and is ready to sail quietly with passengers to traditional whale watching areas.

Andvari is CARBON-NEUTRAL

Sailing towards

A SUSTAINABLE FUTURE

Since the beginning of our journey, sustainability has been our key destination. We are proud to invite you on board Andvari and Opal, the only whale watching boats in Iceland powered by renewable energy!

WHAT DOES IT MEAN TO BE CARBON-NEUTRAL?

A carbon footprint is defined as the totality of an organisation's CO_2 emission.

In order to become carbon-neutral, our carbon footprint is carefully measured by gathering data on all our activities. Using this information, we determine the total size of our emissions and set reduction goals based on reducing consumption and using a variety of low-carbon equivalencies and carbon offsets.

GREEN ENERGY

In addition to balancing our CO_2 emission, we're the only whale watching company in Iceland going the extra mile by offering completely carbon-neutral tours. Running on renewable energy, the boat doesn't emit any CO_2 as it is powered by green electricity.

REDUCE - REUSE - RECYCLE

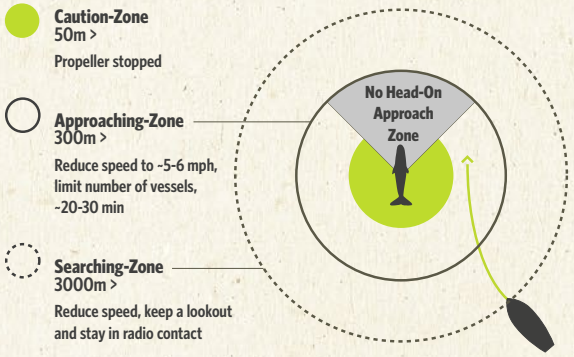

We strive to make economical use of our resources and we always take environmental issues into account. We're committed to reusing and recycling materials, and disposing of waste in an environmentally sound manner.

Code of Conduct

RESPONSIBLE WHALE WATCHING

We have to remember that whales are wild animals and to be able to visit them in the future we need to be patient and show them respect. We will try to get you close but how close we get is always on the animal's terms as we aim to minimise disturbance.

This is a Code of Conduct we aim to abide by, however, there are many variables to consider when out at sea, such as the weather, number of whales, prey availability, if there are calves present, animal behaviour and so on and so forth.

More info about the Code of Conduct can be found at www.northsailing.is and www.icewhale.is.

CONTRIBUTE TO THE NORTH SAILING FOREST!

Kolviður - Icelandic Carbon Fund

We chose Kolviður - the Icelandic Carbon Fund to offset the CO2 emitted by our operations. We have planted more than 15.000 trees in the last years, covering almost 10 hectares of land that will soon become a leafy North Sailing forest!

THE ONLY WHALE WATCHING OPERATOR IN ICELAND OFFERING "CARBON EMISSON FREE" TOURS!

CERTIFICATIONS AND SUPPORT

North Sailing supports the 'Meet Us Don't Eat Us' project which encourages tourists to enjoy whales in their natural habitat rather than on their plate.

North Sailing opposes whale killing and supports the protection of endangered species by being a partner of IFAW - International Fund for Animal Welfare.

Team North Sailing

WE LOOK FORWARD TO SEEING YOU!

North Sailing is owned and run by a local family in Húsavík. Three generations take part in daily operations and the fourth one is already lending a hand.

The North Sailing family has the advantage of working with an accomplished and highly skilled team.

The team consists of a dynamic group of experienced and enthusiastic individuals. Most of them are locals but North Sailing has also been fortunate in having people from all over the world with a passion for whales, sailing and nature joining the team, adding different perspectives to the group.
